GEORGE V NOW SITS ON ENGLAND'S THRONE.

King Edward VII Dies Last Week And World Mourns Death of Beloved Monarch.

London, May 9.—Death, which does not spare the meaneast of mortals, drew his scythe over the throne of Britain last Friday night and King Edward breathed his last. Ten days ago, when he returned to England from a vacation, he appeared to be in the very best of health.

A week ago he was stricken with bronchitis, which, however, did not seem serious enough to be published until last Tuesday, when the nation first learned that their beloved ruler was sick. According to the King's physicians bronchitis developed into pneumonia, but thus far they have refused to state whether this was the immediate cause of his death.

The Prince of Wales succeeded to the crown immediately, according to the laws of the kingdom, without official ceremony, taking the title of George V.

The capital received the news without excitement, but sadly, for the King with his own people was unquestionably one of the most popular rulers in the world. They regarded him as one of the strongest forces making for stability of the peace of the empire.

Powers' Friend On Tripod.

A dispatch from Somerset says that J. F. Coffey, of Williamsburg, friend of Caleb Powers, arrived in Somerset and took charge of the editorial columns of the Somerset Republican in behalf of Powers in his race for the republican nomination for Congress against D. C. Edwards.

Never hesitate about giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to children. It contains no opium or other narcotics and can be given with implicit confidence. As a quick cure for coughs and colds to which children are susceptible, it is unsurpassed. Sold by G. L. Penny.

At Ripe Old Age.

J. F. Edmiston, Sr., of Crab Orchard, Crosses The Dark River.

J. F. Edmiston, Sr., died at his home at Crab Orchard Sunday morning after an illness of several weeks of paralysis. He is survived by his wife, three sons, J. R. W. D. and J. F. Edmiston, Jr., and three daughters—Mesdames W. W. Burgin, Levi Elder and J. D. Anderson. He also leaves two brothers and a sister, Messrs John Edmiston, of Crab Orchard, and D. B. Edmiston, of Louisville, and Mrs. N. A. McClure, of the East End.

Deceased was a devout member of the Baptist church and an excellent citizen. He was 74 years old and a greater portion of his life had been spent in the Crab Orchard section, where he was a merchant for many years and where he was held in high esteem.

The burial occurred in the Widows' and Orphans' cemetery at Crab Orchard today and a large crowd was present to see their friend and neighbor laid away until the resurrection morn. A good man has gone to his reward.

In 1878 Mr. Edmiston made a strong race for sheriff against Walter Saunders, father of W. W. Saunders, of this city, but Mr. Saunders' removal of the notorious Bridgewater and his general popularity pulled him through.

Important Decisions

Regarding Sale of Liquor Handed Down By Judge Saufley.

Two important decisions affecting the sale of liquor in local option territories were handed down by Judge M. C. Saufley at Harrodsburg, where he is holding court now. He gave peremptory instructions to the jury trying the cases of the Commonwealth against W. A. Bottom, a saloon keeper of Lawrenceburg, charged with violating the local option laws of Harrodsburg. Bottom was recently tried in the police court at Harrodsburg on five warrants charging him with bringing whisky into the town for the purpose of sale. He was fined $100 in each case and given a jail sentence aggregating 130 days. An appeal was taken in each case to the circuit court.

Bottom claimed that the sale of the whisky was made in Lawrenceburg, but in the lower court it was proved that he collected for the liquor at Harrodsburg. Judge Saufley held that Bottom had a right to collect for his goods wherever they were delivered and that he could not be convicted for it. The Southern Railway was also recently fined in the police court for hauling whisky into Harrodsburg. Judge Saufley gave similar instructions in this case.

Feland Special Judge.

Judge F. R. Feland stopped over in Danville for a short time en route from Lawrenceburg to Monticello, where he is appointed a special judge. He was reared in Boyle county and is related to the Felands of Boyle and Lincoln counties. He is one of the most noted attorneys in the State.—Advocate.

Unveiling At Danville.

The Confederate monument erected by the Kate Breckinridge Chapter of the U. D. C. of Danville, now stands ready for unveiling. The shaft stands on the northwest corner of McDowell Park, which is the public park of the city. A statue of Capt. Robert Logan surmounts the monument.

Capt. Logan was the organizer and captain of a company of Confederate soldiers from Boyle in the Civil War. The unveiling of the monument will be held May 20, under the auspices of the U. D. C.

Judges Get Their Raise.

Attorney George C. Webb, of Lexington, special judge agreed upon to try the case of J. W. Cammack, circuit judge, against Frank P. James, auditor, to test the constitutionality of the law providing for the increase in the salaries of the circuit judges $1,200 a year, has decided that the act of the Legislature is constitutional. The case will not be appealed.

McCormack Making Good.

Milton McCormack seems in for a fine year in the Blue Grass League. He pitched a 1 to 0 game for Paris against Richmond, scoring the only run after lining out a two-bagger, that was followed by a hit for three bases by Goodman, after two men were out. McCormack's pitching was a feature. He allowed only two hits and hit one batsman.

STANFORD BOYS DO FINE IN TRACK MEET.

Harris Coleman and Wallace Singleton Win Both Events In Which They Entered.

The Stanford High School was covered with glory at the Intercollegiate Meet in Lexington, when its representatives took third honors, being beaten only by two such strong schools as Louisville and Lexington. The former made 51 points to 24 for Lexington and 20 for Stanford. Eight schools were represented. Harris Coleman and Wallace Singleton did the winning for Stanford, each taking both of the events in which he was entered. The Lexington Leader said:

The first surprise came when Roth, of the Louisville High School, stepped the 100 yards in ten and two-fifths seconds. Then came Coleman, of Stanford, who put the shot 39 feet and 11 inches. Immediately afterwards he swung the 12-pound hammer 112 feet and 7 inches. While not so powerfully built, he was easily the best at the weight.

The greatest contest perhaps of the meet was when Singleton, of Stanford, and Guyn, of Lexington, fought for the distance in the broad jump, which was finally won by Singleton at the distance of 20 feet and 11 inches, with Guyn doing 20 feet and 5 inches. This event was pulled off in a driving rain.

The summary of events in which local boys won is as follows:

Shot put—16 pounds—Coleman, Stanford, first; Downing, Lexington, second; Simpson, Louisville, third. Distance, 39 ft. 11 in.

Running broad jump—Singleton, Stanford, first; Guyn, Lexington, second; Roth, Louisville, third. Distance, 20 ft. 11 in.

Running high jump—Singleton, of Stanford, first; Rubel, Louisville, second; Drevenstedt, Louisville, third. Height, 5 ft. 2 in.

Hammer—12 pounds—Coleman, Stanford, first; Simpson, Louisville, second; Downing, Lexington, third. Distance, 112 ft. 7 in.

Everyone of the schools represented declared for another meet next May and a permanent organization, called the Transylvania Inter-Scholastic Athletic Association, was formed.

Carlisle, Mt. Sterling, Louisville, Lexington, Stanford, Threlkeld, Lawrenceburg and Owensville were represented. A large crowd witnessed the contests and stayed, although at times the rain was fierce.

The winners received blue ribbons, which were placed on display in the window at Penny's.

Short Hemp Crop

Again Expected And $6 Is Being Paid For New Crops.

So short was the hemp crop in this section the past season that buyers are already offering $6 for crops yet to be grown. The local agency for Spears & Sons, of Paris, has bought hemp in all the surrounding counties. Great wagon loads of the crop have been received here from Boyle, Casey, Garrard and as far away as Mercer county. The warehouse here has been kept very busy during the receiving season. The price paid has averaged about $5 during this season. Owing to the enormous production of tobacco in this and surrounding counties last season, the hemp crop was very light, and it is estimated that the coming season's production will not be much heavier.

It is said that probably the largest crop of hemp grown on one farm in Kentucky during last season was on what was recently the Beazley place, within less than two miles of Lancaster. T. B. Walker had a tract of 185 acres and B. F. Hudson and Jas. House also cultivated a large acreage of this staple, all parts of the same farm, and making altogether a tract of 400 acres. As the land has been in grass for years, the quality and abundance of the yield was unprecedented and second to none grown in the State.

State Auditor Frank P. James was painfully injured by falling from a street car in Frankfort. Mr. James was attempting to get off the car, which started before he had gotten off. He lost his footing and was dragged a considerable distance before the car could be stopped. Mr. James was badly bruised, but no bones were broken.

Every family and especially those who reside in the country, should be provided at all times with a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment. There is no telling when it may be wanted in case of an accident or emergency. It is most excellent in all cases of rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by G. L. Penny.

Penny And McRoberts

Re-Elected School Trustees At Election Held Saturday.

An election of two trustees of the Stanford Graded and High School was held at the college building Saturday afternoon. Mr. G. L. Penny was placed on the ballot to succeed the late Dr. L. B. Cook, and H. J. McRoberts to succeed himself. There was no opposition to these gentlemen but notwithstanding that fact a good vote was cast. Mr. Penny was trustee for years and made an excellent one, but resigned some 12 months ago when he was elected county chairman of the democratic party. The board of trustees is now composed of the following gentlemen: W. H. Wearan, T. D. Reney, H. J. McRoberts, G. L. Penny and Dr. W. B. O'Bannon, all good men.

The poultry house of W. R. Gott & Co. caught fire last week and injured a lot of eggs, egg cases, fillers, etc. The loss is estimated at $1,000. It caught from a stove in the back of the house.

Joe Haselden bought of J. I. Hamilton the property, known as the Currey homestead, for $6,000.

The city council appropriated $500 to the improvement of the public square, provided a like amount be given by the fiscal court and by private subscription.

Tuesday, May 10th, was set aside as cleaning-up day, the ladies of town to superintend the work and to be furnished with workmen and also a wagon and team.

Judge E. W. Harris has just completed the enumeration of the children of the Lancaster graded school district, finding the number to be 331, an increase of 25 over last year.

Barr Not Guilty.

The jury in the case of Robert Barr, Jr., charged with complicity in the killing of Hiram Hedges, who was shot to death by night riders in Nicholas county two years ago, returned a verdict of not guilty. General satisfaction was experienced with the verdict, as Barr proved a strong alibi.

Shooting Bee In Macksville.

Just as we were going to press a pistol duel occurred in Macksville between Jeff Bryant and Will Lee, notorious Negro characters. Neither party was hit but George Helm, a bystander, from Danville, was struck in the head by a stray bullet and seriously hurt. It could not be learned who fired the shot that struck Helm.

Close Relatives Here.

Miss Julia Lee Rochester, Killed In Seattle, of Kentucky Blood.

Miss Julia Lee Rochester, who was killed in the street car wreck in Seattle in which Judge W. C. Bell lost his life, was a first cousin of Welch Rochester, of this city. Her father, Judge G. A. C. Rochester, now a prominent attorney of Seattle, years ago lived in Stanford. He was a son of the late Col. Charles Rochester, who came here from Boyle.

The Danville Advocate says that the old Rochester cemetery is located on Main street in the Highlands in Danville on the property of M. J. Farris. It is said that nobody has been buried there for more than 50 years and that most of the interments were made 75 to 100 years ago. Most of the tombstones bear the name of Rochester. All the land in that section was formerly owned by the late Col. Rochester.

Mrs. Ralph Goddard, cousin of Miss Rochester, sustained injuries of a more serious nature than either her husband or Mrs. Bell. She was painfully bruised and her ankle was broken. Mr. Goddard has a severe bruise on his left shoulder and many minor bruises, but all the injured are recovering satisfactorily.

Judge Bethurum

Will Not Make Race For Congress Against Mr. Helm.

The Louisville Times says: L. W. Bethurum, of Mt. Vernon, Ky., who made the race for Congress two years ago, on the republican ticket in the Eighth district, was at the Customhouse today and declared that he would not again be a candidate for Congress.

A number of republicans in the Customhouse urged him to be a candidate again. He was defeated two years ago by Harvey Helm by a majority of 1,600.

Mr. Bethurum said he would not consent to make the race. "Some people refuse to run," he said, on account of their health, others because of private affairs. I have some private business affairs, hence I shall not run again."

Elkin, who is one of the most eminent surgeons in Georgia. The many friends of "Archie Dock," as he is known at home, will wish him much success as he enters actively upon his life work.

Can Sell Patent Medicines.

The court of appeals has decided that the law providing for license of $100 to be collected from all persons selling patent medicines, is unconstitutional, except as to druggists.

W. R. Hearst has sued the Courier-Journal and Henry Watterson for $100,000 each in the Federal court for the publication of Mayor Gaynor's speech and editorial delivered before the members of the Associated Press in New York, in which Hearst was accused of all sorts of crimes and misdemeanors.

WANT STREETS OILED THIS SUMMER.

Council Will Be Asked To Take Steps To Keep Down Dust On Thoroughfares.

Many business men up and down Main street and residents are very anxious for the city council to oil Main street and Danville avenue this summer, so as to do away with to a great extent the dust nuisance. There is talk of getting up a petition to present to the council, asking that this action be taken, and it is believed that the city fathers will accede to the wishes of their constituents. A prominent business man on Main street said in discussing the matter:

"I would be willing to contribute to a fund to buy the oil necessary in the experiment, in addition to paying my usual taxes. It might be necessary to oil the streets twice during the first summer, but after the oil has become well worked into the dirt, once a year would suffice. We hear so much nowadays of the spread of disease through germs, and there is no surer carrier of all sorts of deadly germs than the dust which flies during the summer. This can be effectively settled by the use of oil. All the progressive cities which have not paved streets, use oil on their macadam now, and Stanford should not be behind. The first cost would be but little compared with the good that would be accomplished, and I believe that the city council could take no more popular step this summer. It did a splendid work in providing for the general cleaning up; now let it go a step further and oil the streets."

Many others have endorsed these sentiments. In addition to keeping down effectively the insufferable dust of summer, the oiling of streets is said to drive mosquitoes away. The only disadvantage which is said to accompany the oiling of thoroughfares is that, until it has gotten well worked in, it sticks to buggy wheels more or less, and thus endangers the pretty white skirts of the women. However, the oil soon works into the soil of the street and but little discomfort is then experienced on that score.

The life blood of the paper—the advertisements—are there in abundance too. The new paper starts off under very happy auspices and the press of the State will unite in wishing the youngster a hearty welcome and long life.

Have You Seen The Comet?

Early Risers Can Now View Heavenly Phenomenon With Naked Eye.

Early risers in Lincoln and adjoining counties can now see the celebrated Halley's comet. As the comet is now plainly visible to the naked eye, and as thousands of Lincoln people have been eagerly waiting to see it, the following explanation will enable all local "stargazers" to find it readily. Once found, gaze at it steadily and you will be able to trace its filmy tail a great distance across the skies.

First locate the morning star, a vividly bright object directly in the east, then look to the left a distance of apparently 30 feet, and then up an apparent distance of 30 feet.

The glowing object which at first appears to be a star glimmering lazily is the comet. It will grow brighter as you look, however, and the long tail, flowing up to the right, is easily discernable.

If you attempt to view the comet from the streets, take care to shield your eyes from all street lights, as this light blurs the vision and makes the comet almost invisible.

The best time to see the comet is between 3:10 to 4 a. m. At 3:15 it is perhaps at its best. At 3:30 the eastern sky takes on the dimly suffused light of day, and this detracts from the brilliance of the heavenly tramp. As late as 4 o'clock, however, the comet is plainly visible and may be seen as late as 4:15.

Senators Give $1,050

For Relief of Mrs. Eliza Farris, "Angel of The Hospital."

A dispatch from Washington says that moved by the earnest plea of Senator Bradley, 12 United States Senators completed by their individual contributions a fund of $1,050 for the relief of Mrs. Eliza V. C. Farris, of Lancaster. Senator Bradley's bill providing $1,000 for her relief had been rejected by the Senate Claims Committee officially because of the contention that to grant it would establish an embarrassing precedent.

Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, a member of the committee, was touched by Senator Bradley's recital of the Civil War services of Mrs. Farris, who was known as the "Angel of the Hospital." Mrs. Farris during the war turned her house into a hospital and ministered therein to the wounded soldiers of the Union army without charge. She also visited Camp Dick Robinson, in Garrard county, as a nurse and her acts generally are among the finest traditions of Senator Bradley's home county, Garrard.

"Mrs. Farris is one of the best and most kind-hearted women," said Senator Bradley. "She is also a woman of rare intelligence and sweetness and mother of one of the best families in Kentucky. Her father, William Hoskins, of Garrard county, although he owned a number of slaves, was a strong Union man and offered to give them all up if necessary to save the Union. Her niece, the daughter of Col. William Hoskins, of Twelfth Kentucky, was the wife of Gen. Dan R. Collier, who was my friend as long as he lived. It is all very gratifying to me. The subscription is without precedent."

Many people pick up the newspaper and upon seeing some wonderfully low prices quoted exclaim "what wonderful bargains", yes maybe and maybe not, it depends entirely upon the character of the merchandise. Former Lincolnite, Writes of Farming Conditions in Oklahoma.

STROUD, OKLAHOMA, May 2.

To my many friends in old Kentucky: We arrived at Stroud all right and found the country better than we expected. It is a fine country to farm in, the land being loose, easy to work and very productive. We had a frost on April 23, which did some damage to gardens and corn. Most every one has corn plowed over. I am farming some cotton and corn and am going to try a tobacco crop. Cotton planting is the order of the day. The weather is good here now. We have not had a very early spring; have had more wind than usual. I received Harve Helm's garden seed and have planted them. Will let you know how I come out with my crops and garden later. We always watch for the L. J. as it seems like getting a letter from home. I was very sorry to learn of such a heavy frost and freeze in Kentucky. Wishing one and all success, I remain respectfully,
G. W. EDWARDS.

Bids For Road Work

Too High, So Fiscal Court Will Have Re-Letting.

The fiscal court at its meeting Wednesday, April 29th, rejected all bids for crushed or broken stone, to be spread on pikes, because all stone bids were too high, or at least the court so believed.

New bids will be opened May 11th, and any one desiring to bid must do so by sealed bids on or before 10 o'clock a. m. May 11th. This only includes pikes heretofore re-advertised and not those bids heretofore accepted.

It was decided by the court to let the successful bidder have the county rock crushed free of charge on these contracts.

All bids must be sent sealed to S. K. Dudderar, Supervisor.

There were only about 300 cattle on the market Monday and trading was slow, due, the stockmen say, to scarcity of grass.

The horse market was rather slow also, due to high prices asked, says Jordan, the horse buyer, of Wilmore. He says that there has been a sharp decline in the horse market in the past few weeks.

A ewe in a flock of sheep of G. M. Harp, near Milner, that was attacked during pregnancy by a black and white spotted dog, which chewed both of her ears off and otherwise lacerated her, dropped a black and white spotted lamb marked very much like the dog. Mr. Harp has 100 ewes with 121 lambs, most of which are white and some entirely black, but this is the only spotted one in the lot. Some think that the fright given the ewe by the dog's attack was responsible for the peculiar marking of the lamb. A spotted sheep is very unusual. The ewe was so badly mutilated that there is no doubt of her identity. — Woodford Sun.
